"My motive in laying up the Valkyric in Brooklyn was mainly the hope that she would get a chance to race for the cup again in 1896, against the Defender, especially after the hint to this effect that was thrown out by the New York Herald. Another reason for my laying her up was because I was unable to communicate with Messrs. McCalmont & Robinson, who are part owners of the Valkyrie, to ascertain their views of the situation. Until I confer with them, the future of the Valkyrie is uncertain, but I have many projects in view. I especially desire to have it, aut with the Defender in a fair, square race, over a clear course.
